Event Horizon Residential Workshop

2020 Website Program Description

Experience a new perspective about who you thought you were and who you truly are. Discover your true nature.

When we become fully present and coherent in heart and mind, we can perceive for ourselves our true nature and our unlimited potential. Event Horizon is a SAM program, which means that the exercises are supported by Monroe's Spatial Angle Modulation™ (SAM) technology.

Cross the illusion boundaries that are holding you back. Begin the personal journey that includes constructive practices to illuminate your path to freedom. Day to day you use tremendous effort and energy to maintain balance. Your body holds stress as the primary aspect of your behavior and motivation. Experience guided mindful awareness exercises where choice in action replaces habits of reaction.

Reframe your stories from negativeavoidance to positive expression. We all understand this concept but few ever realize its full potential. Attain greater self-awareness and self-understanding by turning the mind inwards towards inner-self-development. Return home with effective tools for maintaining a balanced awareness for resilience in handling daily stressors.

Discover the power of a full and complete In-the-body experience. Your reality is initiated by you. Take the authority and responsibility of your true and present being. This realization is a homecoming to the mindful awareness, freedom, and joy that is the attracting singularity of positive being as you transcend your Event Horizon.
